CITY AND DISTRICT. Gordon Club Meets.

The C. G. Gordon Republican Club of Prince George's county met last evening at the Palo Alto House, Bladensburg. A large crowd was present. President Garges stated that reports from every quarter showed that the people were taking great interest in the fight between Capt. Gordon and Sidney E. Mudd. He believed the former would meet with victory in the coming primary convention. Some matters pertaining to the management of the campaign were discussed, after which the members were served with supper. It was decided to hold a grand mass meeting on the inclosure opposite the Palo

ARRANGING A CONFERENCE

Board of Trade Plans for Entertaining National Educators.

The Preliminaries Discussed at Meeting Held Last Evening-Appointment of Committees.

cently appointed by the board of trade to arrange for the entertainment of the National Educational Association, if it shall meet in this city next year, was held yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the beard of trade. The probability of the executive committee of the association selecting this city as the place of meeting was discussed.

Col. Henry F. Blount was elected chairman of an executive committee of fifteen, to be appointed by him, to confer with the executive committee of the National Educational Association when it visits this city on its tour of inspection.

Charles J. Bell was elected temporary chairman and cpened the meeting, there being present Col. Henry F. Blount, Archi-bald Greenlees, Prof. Wm. B. Powell, Mrs. A. T. Smith, Mrs. Sara A. Spencer, Mrs. S. D. La Fetra, Thomas W. Smith, Charles B. Church, E. J. Lockwood of the Norfolk and Western Railway Company and Ar-thur O'Neill, the secretary of the board

Mr. O'Neill was elected temporary secretary of the committee. He stated that seventy-three retices had been sent out to persons selected to serve on the committee and that thirty-five acceptances had been received.

Committee of Conference.

It was then explained that the purpose of the meeting was to select an executive committee to confer with the executive committee of the Educational Association when it visits Washington in order to give information regarding the facilities which will be provided for the association in the event of its meeting here.

The executive committee was also authorized to increase the membership of the general committee from seventy to one tures that are sure to amuse and entertain everybody, and these, with the music and dancing, are calculated to give everybody general hundred. Mrs. Spencer explained that the decision of the association respecting the place in a pleasant evening. Nothing has been left undone that, in the opinion of the amuse-ment committee, would add in any way to which it will meet will depend upon rati-road rates, character of places of meeting, hotel accommodations and charges, and the opportunity to increase the membership of the association. In view of the circumstances attending the use of the weapon the members of the police force are much interested in the outcome of the case. Judges of the Police Court frequently hear of the reckless use of the pistol in the hands of the police, and sometimes they take occasion to lecture the officers for such recklessness, but very few of such officers have been hauled up before the The rules of the department on this ques-

his defense was that he fired his revolver for the purpose of intimidation, as well as to attract the attention of officers on the adjoining beat, because there was a big crowd following him and stones were being thrown. The question of arming policemen and eaching them how to use their revolvers will soon be given some consideration. Maj. Harries, in his report on the police department, in response to a request from

Commissioner Wight, had this to say on the subject.
"One of the altogether remarkable conditions which has not yet attracted public attention is the arming of policemen with revolvers, although in ninety-nine cases out of one hundred the policeman knows practically nothing of the arm, and has not been taught the first principles of marksmanship. That every officer should be so armed must be evident to all persons having any knowledge of police duty. It therefore follows that the officer should know fore follows that the officer should know how to use with a greater or less degree of skill the deadly weapon he is required to carry and may sometimes be compelled t

"A course of instruction should be insisted upon, and it would probably be only the proper thing to withhold the issue of revolvers to those officers who develop inability to handle them with due regard for the safety of thems-lves, their associates and the unoffending public."

At present, it is stated, very little attention is paid to the question of weapons, and they are not even tested before they are given to the officers. There was a time when they were discharged and passed upon before being issued, but this is not done now. The result is, it is stated by some of the officers, that they have defective weapons, and when a case of emer gency arises the weapon may not be able a weapon falled to work, and its failure had the possible effect of permitting a murderer to escape. Sergt. Slattery of the eighth police precirct had a caller about 3 o'clock yesterday morning who had not announced his coming in advance. When the sergeant reached his home he heard somebody walking on the upper floor, but he thought it was a member of his family. After reaching the upper landing, however, he soon learned that the noise was being made by an outsider, and started after him, but the burglar managed to depart by way of the skylight, and escaped. The bureau drawers had been opened and ransacked, but nothing had been taken.

In cleaning out the basement of an unoccupied house yesterday evening at 1420 N street northwest a colored man set fire to a pile of waste paper in the cellar, and instead of the smoke going up the flue, as is customary, it spread over the entire heuse, and escaped in great volumes through every window in the house. ANDREW THOMAS IN TROUBLE.

Charged With Having Committed a Heinous Offense Near Laurel. A colored man named Andrew Thomas, bout forty-five years old, is under arrest and behind the bars at the ninth precinct station as a fugitive from justice. It is said he is wanted for an alleged attempted assault on a small white girl near Laurel, but he protests his innocence, and is anxlous to remain here instead of going to Marlboro', the county seat, for trial. He was arrested near Benning by Policeman Boland, on complaint of Constable Rollins.

It was the intention of the police to hold the prisoner in the station and then turn him over to the constable, but the latter said he preferred to have Sheriff Underwood come for him. Now that the police realize the nature of the charges against the prisoner, they have some apprehension for his safety when he returns to Mary-land, and they will surrender him only on a requisition.

Thomas says he lived on the farm of Mr. Street Waters near Laurel, and near him lived a family named Coates. What he was doing on the Coates farm Saturday he will not tell, but he says Mr. Coates threatened to kill him for no reason whatever, and when he learned there was a warrant out for his arrest he was willing to stand trial. He said he knew he was innocent of the offense against Mr. Coates' child, and he did not leave the country until he became convinced that he would be killed. The prisoner had tramped through the country until he reached Ben-ning. The officers are now waiting to hear from the sheriff. Attorney Hewlett called to see the prisoner today, and is looking his interests. He has instructed hi client to say nothing about the case, and he will also go into court with him should the sheriff come with a requisition. This afternoon the police had not heard from the sheriff.

His mother, Mrs. Nannie Buchanan, lives in Cox's alley, near 6th and D streets, and when she heard that her son had been drowned she went to the police station to get his body. It was about 9 o'clock when Jacob and some other boys went to the Long bridge to fish. He stopped on the wall near the basin and fell into the water. Just how he happened to overboard is not known. Soon after fatal accident happened the crew of fall overboard is not known. the fatal accident happened the crew of the police boat visited the scene and re-covered the body, which was sent to the morgue. When the coroner gives a certifi-cate of death the mother will take her boy's body to her home

Scrofula

In its thousands of forms is the most terrible affliction of the human race. Saft rheam, scres, cruptiors, boils, all humors, swellings, etc., originate in its foul taint, and are cured by the great and only True Blood Purifier, Hood's Sarsapurilla. The advanced theory of today that tuber-valosis, or concumption, is curable by proper cutrition, care and purifying the blood, finds confirmation in the experience of many who have been cured by

THE WAGES OF SIN. John Sullivan Confesses His Faults and Pays the Penalty.

John Sullivan, a young white man of twenty-two years, particularly desired a bridle and pair of lines the 15th of last month. Mr. Robert C. McChesney having such articles in his stable. John broke into it and possessed himself of them. He so confessed to Judge Cole today, also admitting that he but recently completed three-months term in jail for petit larceny, and that there is still another charge pending against him.

"I could give you," remarked the court "ten years in the penitentiary, and I do not know but that I ought to, for your admissions show you to be any but a law-abiding citizen. But as you did not break into a dwelling house, I will simply give you half the maximum penalty. sentence of the court is, therefore, you be confined in the New Jersey prison at hard labor for the period of five rears. New Trial Granted.

Judge Milis today granted a new trial in the case of Bernard Dyer, who was convicted Monday before him of violating the huckster law by crying his wares in a bolsterous manner, and a second hearing will be arranged for between Prosecutor Pugh and the counsel for Dyer. It is the intention of the defense to carry the case to the Court of Appeals. It is understood to be the wish of both sides to have a ruling from the highest District authority on the validity of the law under which the arrest was made.
